

A look to the future.

Our hearty congratulations to IFJ and its team for achieving this milestone of 100 editions. A century is always worth its weight in gold. This is truly a great achievement as it takes a lot of grit and character to get to this milestone. Over the years, my association with IFJ has become stronger. Their well researched and well drafted stories in and around design, interiors and architecture have been commendable. It is quite challenging to come up with fresh and relevant stories and IFJ has unfailingly done so all along with great panache and style. Kudos to them for keeping us abreast with the latest in the Industry. We continue to look forward to your new issues with great excitement and enjoy the content thoroughly. Our best wishes for your team to reach more milestones and greater heights. Cheers

Applause on hitting the Century. The finesse with which projects and views are blended from all over the world is laudable. Cheers to IFJ Team.

We have been reading and following IFJ magazine since its launch edition. IFJ is one of the very few magazines that always focuses on Good Content, Good Designs and Good layout. We Congratulate Team IFJ on this special occasion and also wish for more success to follow. We have shared a strong business relationship with IFJ & Index for the last 2 decades.

In a world where we are adjusting our eyes to a tiny palm-size screen... IFJ is a breath of fresh air where we can actually sit back with its large format and enjoy beautiful spaces like a coffee table book at a leisurely pace instead of being constantly on the go. As a publication they always go into the depth of the projects, designers and details with well researched articles and beautiful pictures. I really enjoy the in-depth approach and the relevancy of the projects they curate. Thank you IFJ!

Congratulations IFJ!
We have few large format magazines with a good print quality like this one! I have always enjoyed interactions with all of you and the variety of work that you publish. Here's to many more!

IFJ has been my stepping-stone into the architecture and design domain, and a ride-or-die through my career. Right from understanding the important nuances that pull the design together, to learning and absorbing 'the bigger picture', IFJ has been an assimilation of information and interpretation. Having worked with the dynamic team spearheaded by Sylvia Khan, archiving beautiful designs and projects into eloquently curated pages for the industry to consume, the experience has been an immense defining process of my perception of the fraternity and industry. The 100th Edition of IFJ is a proud mile-stone for the avid readers, the industry, and the thought-leaders behind the publication. And we all look forward to the next 100!"

One of the finest Architectural Design Magazines in India which intrinsically covers all aspects of Design.
