VIBHOR SOGANI, SPROUTS, 2008

Roundabout near All India Institute of Medical Sciences,
Sri Aurobindo Marg, New Delhi, Delhi 110023

Undulating steel bulbs, towering at 40 feet (12.2 m) in height, germinate in clusters over a 6-acre (24,281 sq m) parkland traversed by a highway. Sogani gave industrial materials the innocent appearance of plant life, signaling the unstoppable force of growth, both in the biological and economic sense. This monument of the New Delhi cityscape commemorates the nation's unrelenting progress.
